COLUMBARIUMS 101

AN ESSENTIAL SERVICE FOR CEMETERIES?

We still have lots of room

Have in-ground options

Our cemetery is too small

Against local beliefs

No interest

What would prevent a municipality, a church or cemetery board from purchasing a columbarium? Here are some of the common misconceptions or myths about above-ground interment vs traditional burial:

Myth #1: We have lots of space left for traditional burial

Fact: While space may not be an issue, being interred in the ground is a big issue for many people. Of the 70% or more of Canadians who wish to be cremated, most of them are looking for above-ground options. If these options are not available, many will keep their loved ones at home or inter them in another cemetery.

Myth #2: Our burial plots are cheap and a niche would be too expensive

Fact: There is more to traditional burial than simply purchasing a plot. There are also the casket costs, headstone, future engraving for the second interment, funeral costs and interment fees. Cremated remains, however, need only an urn and the engraving or bronze options are smaller for a niche door and priced accordingly. Winter interments are also much easier and more economical. There is also flexibility on timing as loved ones' urns can be taken home and interred in a columbarium at a later date.

Myth #3: It would take too long for a return on investment

Fact: Some cemeteries only sell plots at-need. In the case of a columbarium, it needs to be treated differently. The percentage of people who pre-plan their funerals is now over 50% and the percentage of niches that will sell immediately for those who are already deceased and sitting at home on a mantle is about 25%. That leaves a small percentage of people who will actually wait to purchase a niche at need. Even at a conservative mark up for maintenance and perpetual care, the return on investment should happen fairly quickly if marketed appropriately.

Myth #4: We allow in-ground interment of cremated remains Fact: This goes back to myth #1; not everyone wants to be in the ground.

Myth #5: Our community/cemetery is too small for a columbarium

Fact: No cemetery is too small for a columbarium. If you have an active cemetery, you need an above-ground interment option. Columbariums come in all sizes. In order for Nelson Granite to be successful, the columbarium has to be successful in your cemetery. A smaller unit would be more economical for a small cemetery while providing the above-ground interment option people want. As an example, the smallest community with a Nelson Granite columbarium has a population of 58 residents.

Myth #6: Our community doesn't own or administer any cemeteries

Fact: While that is often not the case, there may be the odd community that isn't responsible for managing a cemetery.

You should
keep in mind,
however, that in
most provinces,
municipalities or counties are required to take over any cemetery in their jurisdiction that becomes abandoned or neglected. If there were no perpetual care

funds given to the municipality, taking over the maintenance and financial responsibilities of a cemetery can be a financial burden. Encouraging all cemeteries to invest in a columbarium now, or having one installed after the municipality has taken over, can greatly reduce the cost of adding a new cemetery to your budget.

As cremation rates are expected to climb above 80% in the next 10 years, 90% in some places, above-ground interment options are no longer just nice to have but an absolute necessity in your cemetery. Cemeteries generally date back to when a municipality was incorporated, sometimes even earlier. They were considered essential to building a community. As traditional burial makes way for cremation, columbariums must be considered an essential service in your cemetery.

Opioid Crisis in our Communities and Municipalities - Mattawa

Attachments:

NCPS Municipality Introduction Letter.pdf

Mayor Raymond A. Belanger Mattawa

Your Worship,

We are facing an opioid crisis in many of our communities and municipalities which requires our immediate action.

I am writing to you on behalf of the National Chronic Pain Society, an organization which is seeking to prevent OHIP and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario from making dangerous changes to the coverage of pain management services – changes that will worsen the opioid crisis plaguing our communities.

Chronic pain affects 1 in 5 Ontarians and makes up nearly 40% of repeat visits to emergency rooms. It is also a frequent cause of social isolation and addiction issues, with many sufferers reporting depression and suicidal thoughts. Thousands of Ontarians rely on the services of pain management clinics to function in their daily lives, and these reductions would put their health and safety at risk, as more and more of them will turn to opioids to cope with the pain. This flies in the face of everything the Provincial government is doing to combat the ongoing opioid crisis in our communities.

Attached is a letter from Leeann Corbeil, Executive Director of NCPS, explaining the situation, and requesting your council's assistance in convincing the Ontario government to stop these changes from putting thousands of people at risk.

Please advise if there is any further information we can provide – together, we can help Ontarians receive the care they need.

Sincerely,

Hon. Jim Karygiannis

May 2023

Your Worship,

Whether you live in a large, cosmopolitan city or a small hamlet, you have been faced with the opioid crisis facing Canadians.

The National Chronic Pain Society is asking for your assistance to help patients suffering from chronic pain from becoming addicted to opioids.

Recently, the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons has made a decision that will lead more people who suffer from chronic pain to turn to opioids to alleviate their pain. The College is targeting community pain clinics by requiring the use of ultrasound technology in the administration of nerve block injections by licensed physicians. They are not mandating this requirement for physicians in any other capacity, such as epidurals in hospitals. This requirement will increase the time it takes to administer the nerve block and, therefore, reduce the number of patients a physician can see in a day.

Also, the Ontario Health Insurance Plan (OHIP) is proposing to reduce coverage for several vital healthcare services, including a drastic reduction in the number and frequency of nerve block injections a patient can receive. These changes have been proposed without any consultation with pain management medical professionals or with their patients. This cut will force chronic pain clinics to shut down, putting-a greater strain on family physicians and emergency rooms.

With the reduction in the number of nerve bocks being administered, many patients, looking for pain relief, will turn to overcrowded emergency rooms, opioid prescriptions from doctors or opioid street drugs.

We are asking that your Council pass a motion requesting that the Government of Ontario maintain OHIP coverage for chronic pain treatments and continue to provide much-needed care for the people of Ontario.

Further if you can please communicate that motion to the Premier, Minister of Health, Associate Minister of Mental Health and Addictions and your local MPP(s),

Thank you for your kind consideration of this matter. If you have any question, please do not hesitate to contact me at 1-800-252-1837, or by email at info@nationalchronicpainsociety.org. You may also contact me through Elias Diamantopoulos of GTA Strategies at (416) 499-4588 ext. 6, or at elias@gtastrategies.com.

Sincerely,

Leeann Corbeil, Executive Director National Chronic Pain Society

Choosing A New Direction

Good afternoon

As a member of the Community Drug Strategy Committee as well as the Provincial Committee called the Drug Strategy Network of Ontario, I am pleased to share the information and Fact Sheets around this initiative called Choosing a New Direction – call-to-action.

What is the "Choosing a New Direction" project?

- The DSNO was established in 2008, and represents forty-three, four-pillar drug strategies throughout the Province of Ontario.
- The DSNO advocacy efforts offer practical policy solutions to end the drug poisoning crisis.
- April 17, 2003 the DSNO launched the Choosing a New Direction call-to-action.
- Supported by 3 Fact sheets. "Choosing a New Direction" outlines province-wide data and information about the costs and harms of current drug policies and practices and steps to mitigate life-threatening risks, including specific actions that municipalities can take.
- The three Fact sheets are available in English and French and plain language text on the DSNO website. https://www.drugstrategy.ca (information in news and events),
- Please distribute, the Choosing A New Direction" fact sheets to all your membership and networks utilizing the information above that explains the DSNO call-to-action.

During the May long weekend - Credit course training weekend on Saturday and Sunday.

One pic of the participants from this week past of the Wilderness First Aid course here all last week. Three of our new staff were certified - lan, Kyle and Tim.

Coral gives us a snapshot of what's been going on. "Individual accommodation reservations had a slight increase this January and February and April compared to 2022, however our March individual reservations dropped significantly in March due to the return of the Metis Nation of Ontario's Infinite Reach Camp. This camp ran every march break prior to the pandemic, and this is their first year back post COVID. They take up all cabins for the majority of March break, so we end up turning away individual bookings."

The second topic is the importance of the website: "The majority of our individual accommodation bookings come through our own website, where there is a booking request form to complete. We get a minimal reservations through 3rd party websites (i.e. Expedia and Hotels.com). It is preferred that people book directly with us through our own website, as these 3rd party sites charge a commission for reservations they process. While it is not ideal to be paying commissions to others, we only pay when someone books, which gives us extra exposure on an accommodations platform, and subsequent bookings from these guests are typically booked through us directly thereafter, so in essence the commission is a marketing fee."

Two pics of the trail going down to the river for the movie – SkyMed... https://tvseriesfinale.com/tv-show/skymed-season-two-canadian-medical-drama-renewed-on-paramount/ shooting here all this week. So the tree is staged and the jump is for the stunt person to go over and crash for the scene.

Court has been helping the movie set people, most of the shooting will be this week.

Lee has ordered new parts for our server, badly needed after 23 years of service and band aid solutions.

Bill's Schedule - Participated in a virtual Park training call this Sunday AM - for their staff. Surgery on Monday. A couple of days of rest or so and then I will work from the bed. Some reports and letters to compose. Looking forward to getting back on my feet!
